FLOODS

Once more rivermen are studying the sky and water, trying to outguess nature in time to forestall flood damage.

The great flood of 1937 damaged more than half a million homes in the valleys of the Allegheny, Ohio and Mississippi rivers. The death total was placed at 900.

The disaster became acute the last week in January, following unusually heavy rainfall and a quick runoff due to the frozen ground.

When the woodchuck failed to see his shadow Feb. 2 on ground from which most of the snow had melted, the hope of an open winter brought no joy in the river valleys.

THANKS SO MUCH

In the continued absence of a man from Mars, through no fault of Orson Welles, to give us an objective slant, Nobuo Fujimura will have to do. Mr. Fujimura is newly appointed Japanese consul general in Manila. His preceding station was Lima, Peru.

On his way to Manila he was interviewed by the press in New York City, where interviewers have a happy hunting ground. He said that the trouble with American propaganda is that it's negative.

We rant and rave too much about that so-and-so on the other side and forget to sell the idea of America. Mr. Fujimura was speaking of South America, where he said the natives were fed up with hearing from American propagandists how awful Germany and Italy are.

The criticism's equally good for North America where the natives frequently get tired of hearing about this menace and that one and would like to have a chance to sing "Home Sweet Home" instead. Thanks, Mr. Fujimura.

DEMONS

The list of national demons reviewed by Former President Hoover last week had a conspicuous omission in it.

Mr. Hoover recalled how at various times in the country's history candidates who wanted to be sure of votes variously attacked the kerosene oil interests, canal interests, railroad interests, anthracite coal interests, Wall Street interests, banking interests and, currently, are attacking electric power interests. Mr. Hoover's demon, if memory serves, was poverty.

Life to a politician is just one damned demon after another—and the bigger the demon the better the politician likes it. What Mr. Hoover omits from his list, perhaps because of modesty, is his own name. He was head demon of the United States at one time, to hear Democrats and their converts tell it. Single-handed, they used to cry in the night, he brought on the depression and kept it from going away.

Then Mr. Hoover left office and the depression didn't go away. It's a sad story. Mr. Hoover can't be blamed for not wanting to bring it up.

SABOTAGE

Everything possible was done by the administration to throw a bad light on congressmen who voted to give it $150,000,000 less for relief than it had requested.

Nevertheless, the cut was made, with the understanding that further money would be appropriated if need for it were shown before the end of next June.

This was a concession to administrative pressure, backed up by pressure from WPA and other minorities opposed to the cut. It gave the administration an opportunity to put economy-minded congressmen in a hole at some later date.

There are early signs that this opportunity is going to be exploited. It is evident the administration intends to make even so minor an economy gesture as the saving of $150,000,000 as unpopular as possible.

Instead of proceeding unostentatiously to administer a slightly curtailed WPA program, the administration apparently is going to make the curtailment as obvious and hard to bear as it can. Drastic reduction of relief rolls has been announced well in advance of the time when reduction will be necessary.

To the extent that this is being done with a view to spreading alarm and firing resentment, it amounts to executive sabotage of a legislative decision.

POLITICIANS MAKE NEWS

It's too bad there had to be an outburst by the President of the United States against the way newspapers are permitted to operate in a free country, but that's water over the dam.

An occasional flareup is useful. It throws light on a circumstance familiar to every person who knows anything about newspapers, but hidden from many others.

It so happens that politicians are a prolific source of news. Everything they do is interesting, because in them resides the power to affect society directly.

Thus, politicians become keenly aware of the uses of publicity in shaping their careers. They value good publicity highly, and they despise bad publicity. Naturally, they would like to get nothing but good publicity.

They are quick to point out "inaccuracies" in stories unfavorable to them, but not so eager to point out "inaccuracies" in stories of an opposite nature. If they controlled the press, there would be no stories of an opposite nature.

Because the press is open for their comment on public affairs, they can use that privilege to criticize the press itself, if they choose, and be assured of a hearing.

That very thing happened in the case of Mr. Roosevelt's comment on the way most newspapers handled the story of what some congressmen thought about his foreign policy—a story which turned out to be unfavorable publicity for the President, as far as many of his countrymen were concerned.

It would seem to constitute the best answer to his apparent conviction that he was treated unfairly.

THE STARS SAY:

For Tuesday, February 7

ACCORDING to the lunar transits, this may be a day of fair activities as far as business is concerned, with much of a progressive and promising nature transpiring. Yet, the emphasis may be placed upon the domestic, emotional, social and artistic life, where there may be much stirring to bring gratification and happiness. At the same time there may be some sort of disagreeable or inharmonious complication unless great tact be exercised.

Those whose birthday it is may be prepared for a promising year in which definite progress may be made in business. It is especially propitious if such business be connected with domestic, social, artistic or general feminine interests or advancement. Affairs of the opposite sex are paramount, with forecast of much happiness. There also is a menace of inharmonious contact or adventure.

A child born on this day may be exceptionally talented in all manner of cultural pursuits—musical, artistic and literary. But it may need some assistance in enhancing that versatility by system and application.

LIFE INSURANCE STUDY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—Chairman William O. Douglas of the securities commission told the temporary national economic committee today that the "spectacular" growth of insurance companies since 1908 alone justified an inquiry into their economic influence.

Douglas, who was the first witness called by the monopoly committee in its investigation into insurance company investments, said insurance firms had cooperated fully with the SEC. He emphasized that he was in no way questioning adequacy of the companies' reserves.

"No policyholder need have any concern," said Douglas, "that any fact brought out in this inquiry will in any way jeopardize the protection which he counts upon through his insurance policy."

The witness paid warm tribute to the work of the so-called Armstrong committee, a joint New York state legislative committee which investigated life insurance companies there in 1905.

But since 1905, "there has been a tremendous and spectacular growth of insurance," he added.

"Three individual companies in 1906 each commanded approximately one-half billion dollars in assets."

"The Armstrong committee recommended that they should not be permitted to grow beyond one-half billion in size. Yet today, each of these three companies commands well over a billion dollars in assets."

"One of them, the New York Life Insurance company, has grown from approximately $474,000,000 in assets to $2,520,000,000 in assets. The Metropolitan Life Insurance company, which then had assets of only $176,000,000 now has assets totalling close to $5,000,000,000."

The monopoly committee's present task, he added, is to survey the economic power "inherent in the vast investment funds controlled by insurance companies and to study the impact of that power upon our national economy."

Lifeboat Goes Up in Flames as Crew Drowns

As a dramatic finale of a sea tragedy which constitutes an heroic chapter in British maritime history, the lifeboat of the St. Ives station goes up in flames off the rocky English coast after seven of its gallant crew of eight drowned while answering an SOS in a raging storm. The boat was dashed on the rocks after capsizing.

CORN GROWERS PROFITED IN '38

Report Shows Income 20 Per Cent Greater Than 1937

By United Press
WASHINGTON, — Midwestern farmers last year pocketed a 20 per cent increase from the cash sale of corn, while farmers for the nation as a whole reported cash income 12 per cent below 1937, the Department of Agriculture reports.

Cash income from the sale of corn last year amounted to $271,687,000, compared with $221,757,000 in 1937, an increase of $50,000,000. That did not take into account corn fed to livestock and marketed "on the hoof."

Illinois farmers sold $95,618,000 worth of corn in 1938, compared with $88,381,000 in 1937, while Iowa farmers increased their cash corn income from $30,565,000 in 1937 to $170,298,000 in 1938. In Indiana the increase was from $16,889,000 to $19,681,000.

Wheat and Cotton Hit
Heaviest losses from the sale of crops was suffered by wheat and cotton growers. The national income from wheat dropped from $602,971,000 in 1937 to $432,691,000 in 1938, and for cotton and cottonseed from $883,776,000 to $667,235,000.

Kansas farmers took a "cut" of nearly 40 per cent in income from wheat, the reduction being from $119,831,000 in 1937 to $74,830,000 in 1938. Missouri wheat growers' income declined from $24,373,000 to $14,497,000. Ohio wheat income was reduced from $29,669,000 to $18,429,000.

Among the cotton states, Texas growers' cash income declined from $244,525,000 in 1937 to $155,401,000 in 1938. Mississippi cash income from cotton declined from $122,167,000 to $106,249,000 and Georgia from $73,764,000 to $46,230,000.

Citrus Fruits Slump
Income in 1938, compared with 1937, from other principal crops included: Oats, $41,608,000 compared with $66,128,000; barley, $31,586,000 compared with $42,567,000; tobacco, $294,063,000 compared with $313,305,000; potatoes, $136,109,000 compared with $139,200,000; truck crops, $18,176,000 compared with $36,000,000; citrus fruits, $80,879,000 compared with $139,200,000; apples, $92,231,000 compared with $108,140,000.

The decline in cash income from livestock and livestock products was smaller than for crops. Stockmen sold meat animals valued at $1,892,442,000 last year compared with $2,039,211,000 in 1937.

PORTLAND, Ore. — This city's police station is believed to be the only one that ever had a "brush" fire in it. The "brush" consisted of two hair brushes that had been left in a sterilizer which had boiled dry. Damage—15 cents.

Judge Subpoenaed

Federal Judge Edwin S. Thomas, for twenty-five years on the U. S. District Court bench in Connecticut, sailed for South America half hour before subpoena was issued for his appearance before a Federal Grand Jury. Investigating affairs of Judge Manton, in New York, the Grand Jury asked that Thomas be taken from ship at the Canal Zone.

Neck Swelling Is Called Protection Against Poison

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

A MOTHER may be terribly alarmed at lumps or swellings that appear on the neck of one of the offspring. Yet, when understood, the cause for alarm disappears.

In most instances, they are enlargements of the lymph nodes and the swelling is due to a simple inflammation somewhere in the mouth or nose cavity. The enlargement is entirely a protective mechanism and stops the infection from going all over the body.

If, for instance, the tonsils are inflamed, the poisons and germs finally get too much for the tonsil tissue itself and threaten to break bounds. Nature has provided in lymph nodes to receive the overflow and calm down the trouble without allowing any widespread infection.

Dr. Murphy, the great Chicago surgeon, used to call this method of overcoming an infection, coffer-damming, likening the lymph nodes to those water-tight enclosures as of piles packed with clay, used to expose the bottom of a river, etc.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Lymph nodes are found all over the body, bound together by small strands of hollow vessels, so that they form a communicating system. The main systems are those in the neck, which drain the mouth cavity and nose and the ears; those under the armpit, which drain the arms and breasts; and those in the groin, which drain the legs. A small boil or infection may appear on the toe or foot, and in the course of time a lump appear on the groin. It may break down and become full of pus and have to be opened, but usually it can be aborted by rubbing with iodine or applying heat.

Look for Cause
The important thing in the treatment of these swellings is the treatment of the original site of infection. Thus in the presence of lymph nodes in the neck, look for a bad tooth, with an acute abscess, or sore gums, infected skin on the scalp from lice or other parasites, as well as tonsillitis. When these are treated, the lymph nodes will subside automatically.

All of these lymph node enlargements are not so simple. In young children they may enlarge without any obvious primary focus of infection. This may be a form of tuberculosis called scrofula. It was formerly much more common in this country than it now is, because, like all forms of tuberculosis that may come from infected milk and herds, it has been largely eliminated with the splendid preventive work done by our American veterinarians. In England it is as common as it ever was, because in England the veterinarians compromised and temporized with the tuberculosis in cows, and did not eliminate it fully.

The treatment of the chronic scrofulous type of lymph node inflammation is hygiene, sunshine, good food, plenty of Vitamins A and D. When the nodes are ripe, they should be removed by surgical operation.

This does not by any means close the subject of lumps in the neck. We began to list all the causes of neck lumps in a class of medical students, and when we had reached twenty-two we gave up.

The premier and four cabinet members entered France at Le Perthus at 3:45 a. m., after a conference with other ministers in the Spanish border village of Aguilana.

President Manuel Azana, who was said to have favored peace along with the Catalan and Basque provincial government presidents, preceded Negrin and was reported enroute to Paris.

Insurgent domination of the north made the route from France by plane or ship the most practical one to Valencia and central Spain.

Peace Efforts Collapse

Weekend efforts toward peace collapsed, as had previous efforts, with the reported refusal of General Franco to accept anything short of absolute victory and unconditional surrender of government forces.

Premier Negrin was said to have the support of army and trade union leaders in deciding to carry on the war.

One source of anxiety over possible border incidents was dispelled when diplomatic authorities reported French officials here received assurances from the insurgent command that Italian troops would not approach the frontier.

The Italian division operating with the insurgents in Catalonia was reported to have been withdrawn to avoid any tension or the danger of a clash with the French army.

Owen D. Young, chairman of the board of General Electric Company and noted financier, and Mrs. Young set out for a day's fishing at Key West during Florida vacation. This is one of few recent pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Young.

Theatre Attractions

Eleanor Powell, Robert Young, George Burns and Gracie Allen are seen in the leading roles of the comedy, "Honolulu", which shows tonight and Tuesday at the State theater.

Young plays a dual role in the picture, which also includes Rita Johnson, Clarence Kolb, Jo Ann Sayers, Ann Morris, Willie Fung, Cliff Clark, Edward Gargan, Eddie Anderson, Sig Ruman, Ruth Hussey, Keatola Holt and Edgar Dearing.

Eleanor Stars Again

Eleanor Powell again proves her title as the world's most accomplished feminine tap dancer in three spectacular numbers. "Hymn to the Sun," an imitation of Bill Robinson's famous stair dance, and a number done with the aid of a skipping rope. In all of them Miss Powell reveals the remarkable talent which has brought her into the front ranks.

The picture's outstanding song numbers are "Honolulu," "The Leader Doesn't Like Music" and "This Night Will Be My Souvenir," with Andy Iona's Islanders, most famous of all Hawaiian native orchestras, lending authenticity to the musical background of the hula numbers.

In addition to the musical comedy features, there is a plausible story in "Honolulu," in which Robert Young carries a dual role, first as a Hollywood movie star, then as a planter from Hawaii.

Trade Places

The screen idol, weary of public adulation, attends a Hollywood "opening." A crowd mistakes the Honolulu planter for the star and mobs him for autographs. This gives the star an idea and he arranges with his double to exchange places. Assured of a vacation, the movie man sails for Honolulu and

How To Relieve Misery of Your CHEST COLD

If you are suffering from a miserable chest cold, try this: Massage throat, chest, and back with Vicks VapoRub at bedtime. Then spread a thick layer on chest and cover with warm cloth. VapoRub goes right to work to bring relief—two ways at once. (1) Direct through the skin like a poultice; (2) Direct to the irritated air-passages with its medicated vapors.

This poultice-vapor action loosens phlegm—clears air-passages—checks tendency to cough—relieves local congestion.

Often, by morning the worst of the cold is over.

Brooding Problems Solved By Lyon Electric Brooder

Poultrymen, the answer to your brooding problems, in the opinion of the Calkins Chick Hatchery, of Salem, is the Lyon improvement electric brooder.

The local company used fuel brooders several years ago. Then it tried out the proven Lyon line. Last year Calkins installed, in one house, 12 of the modern Lyon fan ventilated brooders and they have been in successful operation ever since.

Noted For Economy

The Lyon is notable for economy of operation (low electric bill); economy of installation (no special wiring or housing required); economy of upkeep (small depreciation, no burn-outs); economy of results (low automatic, many labor saving features).

Calkins, who is representative for the manufacturer, has sold 80 of the brooders to date.

One of the most important essentials in brooding is to supply the rapidly growing birds with plenty of fresh air and oxygen. The Lyon provides ample ventilation and is provided with counterbalance equipment. The Lyon has visible air control and fresh air is delivered at the center of the brooding space, thereby providing all the chicks with a change of air.

The incoming fresh air in the brooder is forced directly in close contact with the hover ceiling, thus picking up and distributing all the heat to the greatest advantage with no floor drafts. There are no hot spots and the birds have uniform mild heat at all times.

The brooder is copied after the mother hen so that it provides a range of uniform temperature zones which prevent crowding and afford the fullest comfort under the hover to all the brood in all climatic conditions.

Other Features

Well insulated for economy and strength, with five different materials in its construction to conserve heat (asbestos, wood, felt, iron aluminum paint and compound).

Rated on the 7-square-inches-per-chick capacity.

Low wattage combined with proper ventilation.

Operates at lower cost.

Operates satisfactorily without changing the average poultry house wiring.

Provided with headroom which is sufficient for birds to stand up-right and yet is not too high for economy.

Completely assembled at the factory.

Unrated and put into operation in less than 10 minutes.

Comes equipped with standard lamps which are controlled by a properly protected separate switch.

KEEP QUALITY ON HIGH PLANE

Make No Effort To Compete With "Bargain Price" Work

Beware the price tag! While this discussion is devoted primarily to dry cleaning, the warning might be applicable to merchandising in any line, save, of course, where bargains are offered for very good reasons.

Dry cleaning more properly comes under the classification of service and there probably isn't a service rendered to the public which varies more in price.

Some dry cleaners actually charge about half what others do.

Why Can They Do It?

Common sense will tell you that there can't be such a variance for one type of service and a little thought generally will back up your judgment.

A dry cleaner who renders full and complete service in cleaning and renewing your garments is not in competition with the cleaner who charges half-price and merely rinses your clothing in some solvent like gasoline.

The modern cleaner, like the Paris, on the Benton rd., which plant, by the way, is the only exclusive, fully equipped plant in Salem, makes no effort to meet the low prices some may charge.

There is no law, of course, which would compel every cleaner to meet certain standards in his work, so it remains with your own good judgment to know how your clothing is going to be handled before you turn it over to any cleaner.

They Count

Certainly, to do the work right, it's going to cost a few extra pennies. But, believe it or not, these extra pennies are the ones which count. Your work is going to be properly cleaned and finished and if something should happen which is the fault of the cleaner, the Paris will make proper adjustment.

Cheap work in any line is nearly always a poor investment. We all really know that but unless we exercise our judgment, it does us no particular good.

L. C. Price, manager of the Paris cleaning plant, has often said: "I wish every woman in Salem could go through any plant anywhere and see for themselves what I mean when I say our work is done purely from quality standpoint. Every garment receives individual treatment and every garment must be right."

equipped with a pilot light properly located.

Uses unusually low temperature heating units, and for additional safeguard uses two units in each brooder, guaranteed for long service.

Reliable temperature control; manufactured by an electrical concern of long experience in the poultry field, electrical engineering being combined with practical poultry knowledge.

Lyon brooders have proved they can be used in unheated houses in all parts of the United States and they are manufactured by a company capable of giving and always ready to give, responsible advice on electrical poultry problems.

SAVING PENNIES PROVES COSTLY

When It's A Matter Of Using Dangerous, Wornout Tires

"It's funny," remarks Lee Butler, at the Penzance station, W. State and Jennings, "the people will try their hardest to save pennies on the most vital but least expensive safety item in their motoring cost—their tires."

"They want to drive right down to within 10 miles of a tire explosion that may blow them into kingdom come."

"They make the mistake of thinking they are thus saving the entire cost of a new tire. What they're really saving is only the trivial value of the last 1,000 or 2,000 miles before their blowout. They risk death to save dimes."

"Another 1,000 miles out of a tire that cost $16 and has run 19,000 miles is worth only 80 cents. That's an example."

"I'll allow you for those final, dangerous miles in your old tire about all you can hope to save by using them on the road—if you'll trading them in on safe, tough new Kelly Armorubber tires."

Breezy Briefs Of Sport From Various Spots

BY EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, Feb. 6.—Baseball men are gossiping among themselves that a Bredon-Rickey divorce is coming soon and that Rickey will team up with Larry MacPhail and buy the Dodgers. . . . The tip-off came when Branch, Jr., joined the Brooks to add the Rickey touch to their farm system. . . . Keep an eye on the "H" brigade among the younger golf pros—Ditch Harrison, Clayton Heafner and Ben Hogan.

By Glenn Cunningham: "The minute I get rid of Venzke they bring on this fellow Chuck Fenske."

Natie Brown's seconds holler for foul, but they were only referring to the odor. . . . There hasn't been a window closed in Detroit since the fight. . . . And there's Joe Jacobs yelling that if Mike Jacobs don't soon sign Louis for Galento, Tony and Max Schmeling will fight in Philly and draw half a million bucks. . . . Yep, that would be nice, comments Jimmy Doyle of Cleveland. Two Ton vs. Teu'on—with old Yasserel der Mussel managing both.

Red Barber, the sports caster, who'll do his stuff at Ebbets Field this summer, will be replaced in Cincinnati by Gordon Baker of Rochester. . . . It has not been announced yet, but we suppose some bird named Butcher will succeed Mr. Baker at Rochester.

Nobody got a bigger bang out of the baseball writers' dinner than Mr. William Klem, the old arbitrator (who never called one wrong). . . . Mr. Klem made a speech, had a song dedicated to his deeds on the ball field and got himself a plaque. . . . Larry MacPhail was ribbed from here to Flatbush and back and the Messrs. Bradley and Slapnicka of Cleveland and Brandon and Rickey of St. Louis got theirs, too, via both song and gag. . . . As the program pointed out, the only guests insulted were those no: insulted from the stage. . . . The scribes entertained the biggest crowd yet, and everything went off tip-top and a good time was had by all.

When the Washington Redskins sent Davey O'Brien a contract, they included a significant reminder that there were 12,000,000 unemployed in his country. . . . To which O'Brien is supposed to have replied: "Count again. There are 12,000,001 now."

PLYMOUTH HAS NEW DELIVERY

Special Panel Type Is Different From Previous Commercials

A new type of panel delivery, different from previous commercial cars, has just been added to Plymouth's 1939 series of special models for business use. J. G. Smith garage, local dealer, announced today.

The new model combines the best features of a delivery sedan mounted on a passenger car chassis and the usual half-ton commercial panel models, and escapes the limitations of both.

Plymouth's new panel delivery is mounted on the 1939 "Roadking" chassis, with the same 114-inch wheelbase as Plymouth passenger cars, but carries a special panel body with exceptional loading space of more than 124 cubic feet.

Formerly, prospective users were forced to choose between delivery sedans of 80-odd cubic feet capacity, and half-ton panels of 130-odd cubic feet and up. For the sake of larger loading space, many businessmen bought the bigger models, that were heavier than really required.

Made to Fit

Now for the first time, a vehicle is designed to fit what the majority of such buyers really need. Unusual in a commercial car, individual front wheel suspension with Amola steel coil springs contribute importantly to the passenger car riding qualities of this new panel type.

The new delivery model also brings to the commercial car field Plymouth's new "eye appeal" and functional styling, for added smartness as well as exceptional carrying space.

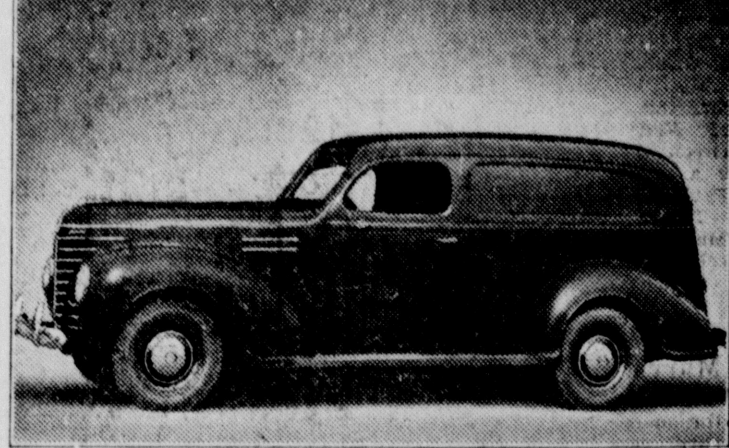

The rugged Plymouth "Roadking" chassis is fitted with special "extreme duty" springs for greater strength, and special two-way shock absorbers of the low-pressure, airplane type. The special springs have 25 per cent more weight than standard passenger car springs, with extra load capacity in bigger Amola steel coils at the front, and in six additional spring leaves at the rear.

Plymouth's new panel delivery was specially designed for particular usefulness to specialty shops, florists, tailors, dry cleaners and other businesses which require a panel delivery car that combines unusual smartness of appearance with generous room, outstanding economy, long life and safety.

Maintains Height

The new panel body's roof maintains its height for maximum carrying space to the back of the car, where two rear doors open up a large loading aperture, 39 inches wide. Over-all length, including bumpers, is 193 inches. Inside load height is 46 inches at the crown, and the body contains nearly 7 feet of load length—82½ inches—back of the driver's seat. For longer, narrow objects such as a roll of linoleum that can be slid forward beside the driver's seat, more than 10 feet of load length is available inside the body from the dash panel to the rear doors. (122½ inches).

Standard equipment is one bucket seat for the driver, with the other half of the driver's compartment left open as additional load-carrying space. An additional bucket seat is available as special equipment, if desired. Inside trim of the front compartment, driver's seat and entire roof is a handsome leather-finished material. Inside walls are finished in tough fibre board, and the floor has special steel skid

Professional Boxing Returns to Salem In Benefit Show

Weekly-Sharkey Bout Adds Class To Pro Boxing Show Slated For Tuesday Night

Leading Ohio Lightweights To Clash In Main Bout Of Junior Chamber Of Commerce Benefit Card At Memorial Building

Fight fans who for many years have been seeking the return of professional boxing to Salem will have their desires fulfilled tomorrow night when the Junior Chamber of Commerce presents a high-class fistic program at the Memorial building.

Planned as a benefit for the Memorial building, the show offers local fistic followers their first all-professional program in recent years. Proceeds of the show will be used to purchase a new hot water system for the Memorial.

The Jaycees, in attempting to bring professional boxing back to Salem in the style it deserves, have lined up 28 rounds of fighting in four bouts, featuring a 10-round main bout between two of Ohio's outstanding contenders for Henry Armstrong's lightweight title.

Meeting in the main bout will be Harry Weekly of Alliance, the recognized Ohio lightweight champion, and Ray Sharkey of Cleveland, prominent lightweight championship contender, who has 42 knockouts to his credit since turning pro little more than three years ago.

The Weekly-Sharkey bout is definitely high class and promoters of the show feel exceptionally fortunate in securing the two lightweights for the feature bout.

Weekly, 24-years old, is just now reaching top form after seven years of ring experience. He has had 116 fights in his boxing career, losing only 12 and winning 101. He has had three draws.

The Ohio champion fought eight times during 1938 and made a distinction hit with Texas fans while campaigning in the southwest. He was offered a bout in Houston, Tex., this week, but turned down the offer in favor of facing Sharkey, whom he has never met.

Weekly suffered only two losses during 1938, one of these to Wesley Ramey of Grand Rapids, Mich., who is ranked No. 7 on the list of National lightweights by the National Boxing association. Ramey defeated Weekly in a close bout in Texas.

The Alliance fighter's record includes victories over Pete Leen, who is now touring with Champion Henry Armstrong; Emil Cody of Phoenix, Ariz.; Sammy Musco of Omaha, Neb.; and Johnny Shepard of Cleveland, and draws with Lefty Young and Frankie Wallace of Cleveland.

Sharkey, two years younger than Weekly, is being groomed for a shot at the lightweight championship. He is expected to meet Lou Ambers, former lightweight champion, in Cleveland this summer.

Hailed as the best fighter Cleveland has produced since Johnny Kilbane, Sharkey has fought many of the best boys in his division, including Ewing Eldridge, Jimmy Vaughn, Harry Greb, E. O. Stevens, Al Melker, Izzy Schwartz, Pete Rosette, Harry Knauss, Joe Ghounsky and Billy Marquard.

In recent bouts, he kayoed Pete Leen in the seventh round and Cusby Marino in the third heat. He defeated Lloyd Pine twice in recent fights.

Two changes in the preliminary card were announced today by Matchmaker Jimmy Perry. Al Mueller of Canton has been substituted for Jimmy Sheiland in the semi-final, Sheiland was forced to cancel his engagement here because of a severe cut over his eye, received in a bout at Canton last week.

The other change places Tommy MacKenzie of Canton in the curtain raiser for Dick Scullion of Salem, who has been forced to withdraw from the show because of a bad cold.

Mueller will meet Joe Valentine of Harrisburg in a heavyweight battle, while MacKenzie will face Jackie Fields of Buffalo, N. Y. The other six-round preliminary bout will send Bill Miller of Alliance against Billy Clark of Buffalo, N. Y.

Weekly and Sharkey will weigh in at the office of Dr. R. T. Holzbach, physician for the Salem Boxing and Wrestling commission, at 3 p. m. tomorrow. The preliminary fights will be examined by Dr. Holzbach and their weights checked tomorrow evening.

REILLY SPANKS COLUMBIA FIVE

First Round Champs Of Grade League Suffer First Setback

The first round champion Columbia team of the Mickey McGuire basketball league for grade school teams was handed its first defeat of the season in the Memorial building Saturday, losing to Reilly, 16 to 15.

The defeat was the first Columbia has suffered in the second round, dropping it into a tie for the lead with Reilly and St. Paul.

Scullion was the big gun in leading Reilly to victory, caging six field goals for 12 points. Kelly tallied seven points for Columbia.

St. Paul moved into the first place by spanking Fourth St. 27 to 23. Julian led the St. Paul victory with 11 points. Kelly tallied 11 markers for the losers.

McKinley recorded its second victory in four games by wallopping Prospect, 21 to 8, with Lodge and

BUCKEYES BID FOR TITLE IN BIG TEN LOOP

Ohio State Battle With Indiana Features 49-Game Ohio Card

BY FRITZ HOWELL

COLUMBUS, Feb. 6.—Ohio State's basketball team will battle Indiana's Hoosiers for the western conference lead tonight at Bloomington in the feature attraction of this week's 49-game schedule involving the Buckeye realm's collegiate quints.

Coach Harold G. Olsen's crew beat Minnesota in an overtime tilt Saturday to take over the pace-setting role, but the Bucks must win tonight to keep the Hoosiers out of the top spot. The Ohioans beat Indiana 45 to 38 earlier this year for the Hoosiers' lone setback.

Along with the Western conference feature are three Buckeye loop games this week, and 14 in the Ohio league. Twenty-two contests are booked with out-of-state teams, 15 of them on foreign courts.

Wooster's rampaging Scots, leaders of the Ohio conference with nine straight wins, and top team in the state with 12 victories and a single defeat, entertain the Rough Riders of Case in an Ohio conference tilt Saturday.

Leach setting the pace with nine and eight points, respectively.

FOURTH ANNUAL SALEM BOWLING TOURNAMENT OPENS

Eight Teams To Compete In Five-Man Event Tonight

Eight five-man teams will fire away at gleaming new pins at the Masonic temple bowling alleys tonight, ushering in the fourth annual City Handicap Tenpin tournament, sponsored by the Salem Bowling association.

Thirty-seven teams and some 190 bowlers will compete in the tournament during its two-week run. The five-man event will hold attention five nights this week, while the doubles and singles events will take over the spotlight next week.

With only the Citizen's Ice & Coal team returning to defend its five-man team championship, new champions are certain to be crowned in the doubles, singles and all-events.

Clyde White will not defend the singles title he won last year, while John Galechek will not be back to protect his all-events championship. The doubles combination of Merle Powell and Paul Frank, tournament winners last year, was broken up shortly after the tourney when Powell moved to Oil City, Pa.

Prizes amounting to $192 will be awarded by the local association to winners in the various events. The Masonic Temple Corp. will also give cash prizes to winners in the all events class without handicap.

The honor of opening the tournament competition goes to the four teams which will roll on the first shift of tonight's schedule. They are Kelley's Service, Demings, Berg Bretzels and the Ohio Edison.

Competing on the second shift tonight will be the Silicious Chocolate Milks, Metzger Hotel, Bloomberg's and the Crescent Machine.

The complete five-man schedule follows:
Tonight
7 p. m.—Kelley's Service, Demings, Berg's Bretzels and Ohio Edison.

Friday
7 p. m.—Sanitary Office, Democratic Club, Economy V-8's and Merrit Shoe.

Getting away to a fast start, Farrell Saxons assumed a 12 to 5 lead in the first quarter and increased their advantage to 19 to 8 in the second period. The Pennsylvania Saxons boosted their lead again in the third quarter, moving 13 points out in front.

Trailing 25 to 12 at the start of the final frame, the Salem lads came to life to outplay Farrell, but their rally was too late to permit them to catch the Pennsylvania team.

Rudy Schuster and Walter Linder shared scoring honors for Salem with seven points apiece, while Benning paced Farrell with nine points.

The Salem Saxons girls encountered trouble in hitting the hoop and fell before Farrell lassies, 8 to 9, in a low-scoring preliminary game. Jo Adams scored all of Salem's points.

The Salem girls missed 12 free throws during the contest.

Wes Ferrell Wins Tourney But Only After Argument

By GAYLE TALBOT

SALEM, Feb. 6.—This annual golf tournament of the nation's baseball players is deserving of a whole lot more notice than it has been getting.

It is, without much doubt, the greatest free-style golf tournament in the world.

Where else, for instance, can you witness a final like that of yesterday, when Wesley Ferrell of the Yankees had to lick Paul Waner of the Pittsburgh Pirates at least twice before Paul would admit he had enough; where there are no recognized rules of combat, and where the players and gallery pluck oranges from the trees?

The record will show simply that Ferrell, a righthanded pitcher, defeated Waner, a left-hand outfielder, on the 38th green. But the record won't give future generations any idea of the things the pitcher and outfielder said to each other.

It doesn't sound reasonable, but when they completed the agreed upon 36 holes Ferrell thought he had won just as positive they were all square and that some extra holes were in order.

It all came about because Ferrell hit his drive into the rough on the 30th and didn't like his lie. The ball was half-buried, and Wes insisted he could lift it and drop it in a more agreeable position.

Waner, who now was only one down, said he never heard of such a fool idea. They couldn't appeal to a referee because there wasn't any.

So Ferrell dropped a ball anyway, dropped it in a nice spot, and as a happy result managed to halve the hole. But he also played the half-buried ball, and with it required six strokes to hit the hole. Naturally, Wes preferred the former. When they walked off the green, Waner observed: "You lost that hole," Ferrell said, "my caddy says I didn't."

So on they played and glowered six more holes. When they putted out on the 36th, Waner ranted into the locker room, demanding a play-off. Ferrell said what the heck, that he had won the blooming tournament once.

The club members got in the argument and finally Ferrell agreed to flip a coin to see whether there

Local Lads Lose Despite Fourth Quarter Scoring Spree

Despite a fourth quarter rally in which they scored 15 points to their opponents' five, the Salem Saxons cagers went down to defeat, 30 to 27, in an Ohio and Western Pennsylvania Saxons basketball league game at Farrell, Pa., Saturday night.

The defeat was the fifth the Salem lads have suffered in eight league games to date.

Farrell Saxons assumed a 12 to 5 lead in the first quarter and increased their advantage to 19 to 8 in the second period. The Pennsylvania Saxons boosted their lead again in the third quarter, moving 13 points out in front.
